

Let's make sustainable living a lifestyle choice.

The story of WeCommunities

What inspired us to create our unique collective farms?

Living in a city has its perks. But in all that chaos, there must have been moments when you wished you could peacefully settle down amidst scenic views with your loved ones as next-door neighbours. Seven years ago, WeCommunities became our way of making sure we make this happen in a way that allows one to enjoy the best of the urban world and live a lifestyle in sync with nature.

While the idea of staying on a farm might seem overwhelming alone, but as a community, it becomes an achievable dream. Our collectives follow a community-first approach and are home to like-minded folks who are eager to lead a sustainable way of life. Members are encouraged to share their ideas and actively contribute. In addition, we also work together with nearby villages to create our farm. The heart of our progress lies in this shared journey, where everyone contributes, learns, and thrives together.

Life with WeCommunities

Inside Our Sustainable Collectives & Like-Minded Community

All our collectives are created in a way that contributes to the existing natural biodiversity and ecosystems. We have revived overgrazed lands into flourishing agricultural fields where we grow our food following permaculture & agroforestry principles. The homes we create are largely made with locally-sourced materials. Members can collaborate with one of our housing partners on the design plans. Most of our collectives are also connected to major roadways, so one can return to the familiar cityscape whenever necessary.

Being a member of our collective offers a one-of-a-kind farm-life experience.

Here's how:

-  Live on a farm and get your home customised according to your needs.
 -  Enjoy a lifetime supply of natural farm produce and products.
 -  Savour fresh farm-to-table meals prepared with veggies grown at the collective.
 -  Connect and live with a like-minded community that shares similar lifestyle goals.
 -  Step away from the hustle of the city and settle in a peaceful place.

About our farming collectives

Over the years, we have been on an exciting journey to set up thriving, sustainable communities in three different states across India. The location for each farm is handpicked by us to ensure that our members can enjoy a nature-centric lifestyle without giving up the comforts of urban living.

Rose Valley Collective

Nestled amidst hills, valleys, and lakes surrounding Thally, Tamil Nadu, this expansive 70+-acre agroforestry haven is centred around sustainable living. The farm life here unfolds as an opportunity to thrive in harmony with nature at every turn.

Tamarind Valley Collective

Sprawling across 90+ acres of rejuvenated, once-overgrazed land, this collective is now home to 52 families who've embraced a life deeply rooted in mindful consumption and sustainability.

The Madakkal Ridges

Enveloped by rolling hills and natural lakes, this 70+-acre collective is taking shape as a blend of agroforestry, food forest, and animal husbandry. Life on the farm revolves around fostering connections—with each other and the land.

Neemli hillside collective

This 120-bigha agroforestry farm, nestled amidst the Aravalli range, might be the breath of fresh air NCR needs. Located just 75 km from Gurgaon, the environment here is perfect for a life less hurried, offering a respite from the frantic pace and smog-filled city.

Collective with a Personalised Food Forest (Coming Soon)

This farming collective is just 40–50 km away from Bengaluru. It offers a sanctuary far enough from the city's hustles yet conveniently close for those occasional returns to the urban scene.

This is not a real estate project, it is going to take time. You can't be a consumer of this, you got to think about this as a producer.

Rajeev Prakash

This community is not something that we bought but it is something that we made. We want to see a tree grow up to a point when we can sit under its shade.

Zainab & Kiran

Being in a place surrounded by good folks. Living a calmer, simpler and healthier life puts me in a much better headspace.

Akash Gehani

For us it was not just about money and investment. It was really how to use the money in a way that can give us happiness.

Hitesh & Megha

The quest for a simpler life and a healthier life drove us towards the collective. It's rare to find people with common philosophy and goal.

Sandeep & Supriya

Eat fresh.
Live with your community.
